Completion Date: 2001

Contact: Ron Gurskey, Project Coordinator

Ling Partnership was the prime consultant for the architectural, mechanical and electrical design of various renovation projects within Whitmore Laboratory.

These projects included a computer lab, nuclear magnetic resonance research labs, lab exhaust system upgrades, office support space renovations and telecommunication infrastructure upgrade.

In addition to typical architectural engineering system design, our engineers researched and analyzed the specifics of the equipment. The designs ensured that the proper safeguards were in place and the thermal environment necessary for proper operations of the equipment was provided.
