

Reference Projects

Woodcrest Villa Apartments
Mennonite Home

Lancaster, PA

Construction Cost: $25 million

Completion Date: 1995

Contact: Nelson Kling

When the Mennonite Home of Lancaster, Pennsylvania made the decision to expand their services into an independent living retirement community, the team of Reese, Lower, Patrick and Scott (architect) and Parfitt/Ling (predecessor of Ling Partnership) was engaged to execute the design of the new community.

Ling Partnership provided professional services for the design of the mechanical, plumbing, fire protection and electrical systems supporting the retirement community, which included several hundred apartments, community center, dining facility and kitchen, health club and indoor swimming pool.

